

Let's Talk About Sex

Sexual Health and Relationships Education Programme for Secondary Students

Sex Education

The one subject that teachers always have difficulty in teaching is

Sex Education: The basic facts.

This workshop takes the UK curriculum on sex education, and using innovative workshop techniques our facilitators will take the subject, and teach it... The facts... Simple... Made easy.

•Package 1- 60 minute interactive workshop
Daily rate includes 2 X 60 minute workshops
Maximum audience per workshop - 150

Sexual Health

One-quarter of girls have underage sex but fewer than one-third go to family planning clinics to get advice on contraception or sexually transmitted diseases, says a study. Boys and girls know very little about the law, when it comes to underage sex.

This interactive workshop covers many subjects relating to Sexual Health:

- Teenage Pregnancy
- Underage Sexual Activity and the Law
- Sexually Transmitted Infections
- The outcomes, and dangers of having unprotected sex.

A very frank and "straight to the point" workshop.

What am I going to tell Mum?

The story focuses on the experiences of schoolgirl Trace, as she suffers the consequences of a 'brief encounter' with 'Young Stud' Dave.

The performance boldly highlights the experiences of both young people as they are faced with the responsibilities of teenage parenthood and the subsequent choices made as they struggle to come to terms with life in the adult world.

This production offers a frank and realistic view of young people's attitudes to teen relationships, sexuality and under age sex.

Suitable for Yr 8 upwards
